Cora DeVos - Souls Ignited exhibition(2 records)

Recording was taken during a live event in which the director of the Vancouver Maritime Museum, David Jordan, interviewed photographer Cora DeVos in front of a live audience in the TK Gallery about the photographs featured in her temporary exhibition at the museum, entitled Souls Ignited. The photographs are part of the Gold Series of the Inuit Tattoo Revitalization Project, both spearheaded by DeVos, and she speaks to both in her oral history.
